Is your country a Party to the Paris Agreement?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No

Please describe how your country's participation in the Article 6.4 mechanism contributes to sustainable development, while acknowledging that the consideration of sustainable development is a national prerogative.

The Brazilian NDC reaffirms the country's ambition to achieve economy-wide carbon neutrality by 2050 and emphasizes the promotion of a just and inclusive transition.

In this context, the Article 6.4 mechanism is seen as a valuable instrument for enabling the mitigation targets in our NDC while generating co-benefits such as job creation, capacity-building, biodiversity protection, and improvements in public health and energy access—particularly in vulnerable and underdeveloped regions.

Brazil is committed to ensuring that all activities under Article 6.4 contribute positively to its social, environmental, and economic objectives. The country is currently designing governance frameworks and approval processes that will assess contributions to sustainable development based on nationally defined criteria, ensuring full alignment with domestic policies and the broader objectives of its climate policy.

Please provide detailed information on the types of activities under Article 6, paragraph 4 (A6.4 activities) that your country would consider approving pursuant to chapter V.C (Approval and Authorization) of the Rules, Modalities and Procedures (RMPs).

Additionally, explain how these activities, and any associated emission reductions or removals, would contribute to the achievement of your country's NDC, if applicable, its long-term low GHG emission development strategy, if it has submitted one, and the long-term goals of the Paris Agreement?

Brazil envisions approving a broad range of Article 6.4 activities that are aligned with its national climate goals, sectoral strategies, and sustainable development priorities. These activities may include, but are not limited to, renewable energy generation, energy efficiency, sustainable agriculture and forestry, methane abatement in waste and livestock sectors, low-carbon transportation, and restoration, conservation and sustainable management of national biomes. Priority will be given to activities that contribute to the decarbonization of the economy, including both emission reductions and removals, and generate measurable social and environmental co-benefits.

Drawing from its CDM experience, Brazil is committed to encouraging activities that promote innovation, support technology transfer, and enhance local capacity. Special attention will be given to initiatives that benefit vulnerable populations and regions, including those in the Amazon and semi-arid areas, in line with the principles of equity and a just transition. Projects must also demonstrate environmental integrity, contribute to Brazil's NDC targets, and avoid double counting, in accordance with the guidance established by the RMPs.

However, when approving activities under Article 6.4, Brazil will not immediately authorize the issuance of ITMOs, reserving this decision for a later stage, in accordance with national regulations.

Activities authorized by Brazil under the Article 6.4 mechanism will be carefully selected to complement and support the achievement of its NDC targets.

Brazil's NDC outlines a pathway toward climate neutrality by 2050 and highlights the importance of a structural transformation across sectors, particularly in land use, energy, agriculture, and industrial processes. Article 6.4 activities will contribute to this transformation by fostering scalable mitigation solutions, encouraging private sector engagement, and channeling finance toward long-term decarbonization efforts in key sectors of the Brazilian economy.

Crediting periods to be applied for A6.4 activities that it intends to host, including whether the crediting periods may be renewed, subject to the RMPs and under the supervision of the Supervisory Body, and in accordance with further relevant decisions of the CMA, with an explanation of how those crediting periods are compatible with its NDC and, if it has submitted one, its long-term low GHG emission development strategy:
